Project introduction

Akwaaba! Welcome to Ghana!

Our local team will meet you upon arrival at Kotoka International Airport in Accra and transfer you to your guesthouse nestled in the scenic Akuapem Hills. Once you arrive, unpack, settle in, and enjoy a restful evening to recharge for the exciting weeks ahead.

Start your second day with a comprehensive general induction. Our team will first take you on a guided tour of the local area, showing you essential shops so you can grab snacks, exchange currency, and pick up a local SIM card. After a welcome lunch, head to the school for an introduction, facility tour, and briefing on your schedules, assignments, and group allocations.

Conclude your day with an engaging cultural workshop covering local customs, alongside an introductory Twi language lesson to facilitate your interactions with the community.

Greening project & teaching support

Over the next four days, your time will be split between work on a greening initiative, assisting teachers in the classroom, and cultural immersion.

In the mornings, roll up your sleeves as you get hands-on with eco-restoration tasks involving planting native trees, supporting sustainable farming projects, and establishing sheltered habitats for native wildlife. You'll also help to build hygienic tippy taps at local schools and lead interactive sessions teaching pupils the importance of washing their hands before and after eating.

Following lunch, shift your focus to primary education by helping teachers draft lesson plans, leading small group exercises, and taking learning outside with organised sports and playground games.

Enjoy a relaxing late afternoon break to rest and recharge before evening activities begin. Your nights bring authentic cultural connection, featuring a high-energy African drumming and dancing session and an entertaining tournament playing traditional board games like Oware.

both days

Cape Coast & Kakum National Park

Journey on from your base in the Akuapem Hills to experience Ghana's coastal history and wild rainforests for the next couple of days.

Start with a scenic drive down the coast as you head to Cape Coast Castle. Learn about the Portuguese colonisation and the region's slave trade history as you explore the Cape Coast Castle.

After a beach picnic, immerse yourself in local arts with an evening at your hotel, where you'll watch a traditional music and dance performance before joining a hands-on drumming and dance class.

Your exploration continues the next day at Kakum National Park. Venture across the famous high canopy walkway for a fantastic vantage point to spot local wildlife, including monkeys and native birds. After a relaxing lunch overlooking a lake with alligators, head back toward the Akuapem Hills, stopping along the way at West Hills Mall for snacks and shopping.

Back to school

As your second week begins, settle back into your routine with a renewed energy, building on the skills and relationships established last week.

Your mornings remain dedicated to continuing the greening activities – focusing on habitat restoration, sustainable farming support, and environmental education.

In the afternoons, step back into the classroom to assist local teachers, leading interactive academic exercises, creative arts and crafts workshops, and active outdoor sports sessions.

Evenings blend creative preparation with authentic cultural experiences. Organise your teaching materials during structured planning time, roll up your sleeves for a traditional Ghanaian cooking class to make local dishes, and enjoy a relaxed movie night featuring West African cinema.

As your time in Ghana comes to an end, celebrate your time in Ghana with a lively Culture and Sports Day at the school. This final afternoon gives you the opportunity to play games, share cultural performances, and say a heartwarming goodbye to the students and teachers. Cap off your incredible journey that evening with a celebratory farewell dinner, reflecting on your accomplishments and memories with fellow volunteers.

Departure

Head back to Accra and reflect on the once-in-a-lifetime journey you’ve undertaken, the memories you’ve made, and the skills you’ve developed. Look back on the incredible work you’ve done in the local community with pride.

Think about your newfound confidence, skills, and cultural understanding during your journey — these will stay with you for the rest of your life.

They will develop intercultural competence, broaden their perspectives, and actively contribute to sustainable development initiatives.

Through stepping outside their comfort zone, students will build resilience, confidence, and adaptability. By taking on new challenges and working collaboratively in teams, they will strengthen their leadership skills, decision-making, and capacity to guide and inspire others.

EMPOWERMENT

Students are empowered to develop the confidence and independence needed to think critically, challenge the status quo, and take ownership of their choices, creating a mindset for transformative decision-making.
